Aides Say His Leaving is Practically Assured After Minor Adjustments Are Made

WORK ALL NIGHT ON IT

Will Carry A Crew of Four and May Continue Around the World

NEW YORK, July 9—(INS)—So far as weather and mechanical conditions would allow, take-off of Howard Hughes, millionaire amateur aviator, for Paris at 5 p. m. E. T. today was practically a certainty, aides said.

While Hughes slept, mechanics worked all night making final adjustments on the 1100 horsepower monoplane in which Hughes hopes to make the first New York-Paris jump since that of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. Hughes will carry a crew of four. Whether the trip will be extended around the world will be decided upon arrival in Paris.

Skies were clear at dawn today, but thundershowers were predicted for later in the day.

Probe of Earle Administration Likely To Be Delayed Month

By Raymond Wilcox

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, July 9—(INS)—A Grand Jury investigation into the Earle administration which may run concurrent with the Fall election became a distinct possibility today as indications pointed to a month's delay in the probe's opening.

And as a consequence, subsequent to Judge Paul N. Schaeffer's announcement that he would issue a formal order Monday convening a grand jury, added strength was given to reports that Gov. George H. Earle would order a legislative investigation in an effort to "clear the air" before election.

Although Judge Schaeffer has not yet announced he will order the September grand jury convened, strong indications pointed to that. His decision will be announced Monday. Under the law the September grand jury cannot be convened before August 8, at the earliest. The June grand jury could be re-convened immediately, but criticism has been leveled at its political makeup, 21 of its 23 members being registered Republicans.

Count Haugwitz-Reventlow Denies Rift With Brother

Informing that a story had been printed in the United States reporting a family rift, Count Count authorized International News Service to say for him:

"Reports that a disagreement has occurred between myself and Count Henry are not true."

Three Severely Injured In Crash of Truck and Car

MORRISVILLE, July 9—In a head-on crash between the automobile in which they were riding and a truck on the bridge at West Bridge street, last night, three Trentonians were severely injured.

Harry R. Bergen, of 283 Bellevue avenue, for many years deputy city controller, is in Mercer Hospital suffering from two fractured ribs, laceration of the forehead and brush burns. Harry Dennis, 56, of 526 West Hanover street, is in St. Francis Hospital with a dislocated left shoulder, possible fracture of the right shoulder and lacerations of the right eyelid.

Ernest Stevenson, 50, of 144 Passaic street, is in the same hospital suffering from severe lacerations of the left eyelid, forehead and left arm.

The crash occurred on the steep hill over the former canal. The Trenton car caught fire and the Capitol View and Union Fire Companies were summoned. The fire was soon extinguished. Both the truck and car were badly damaged. Passing motorists took the victims to the hospitals.

Chief of Police Albert Cooper, of Morrisville, investigated.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO HAVE CAR TRACKS REMOVED

From E. Bridge Street, Morrisville, Between Penna. and Delmorr Avenues

ASK HIGHWAY DEPT

MORRISVILLE, July 9—An effort is to be made by officials of this borough to have the trolley car rails, located on East Bridge street, removed from points between Pennsylvania and Delmorr avenues.

The State Highway Department is to be asked to have the same removed.

The borough some months ago at the request of the State Highway officials purchased the old rails and turned them, along with the title to the old trolley area, over to the State upon the promise that the old rails would be removed and the roadway rebuilt. At the time of the transaction, the weather would not permit the improvement and it was postponed until warmer weather and, now with the Summer months at hand, the local officials believe that it would be a good time to have the work done.

The State Highway Department has been maintaining this road by keeping the holes filled with tar and stone, but it is understood the plans call for the removal of the old rails and ties and the building of a concrete strip along the old trolley car area.

ATHLETICS WERE SELF-SUSTAINING IN '37-'38

Losses Sustained in Football, Baseball and Track Events, It Is Reported

PROFIT IN BASKETBALL

Athletics paid for themselves at Bristol high school during the term of 1937-'38.

Although losses were sustained on football and baseball games and track events, basketball pulled the local school sports out of the "red."

That the sports broke even is encouraging to students, faculty and the directors of Bristol schools.

Although the sports did not pay for themselves individually, it is a source of satisfaction that the sporting program as a whole carried itself.

There was no income from track, but a little revenue was received from baseball. Students attended baseball games, but response was not very fair on the paying end it is stated, consequently baseball chalked up the greatest loss in the line of sports.

Football games were well attended but income was not sufficient to cover the expenses of the games.

The expenses for football were higher during the past term than usual, due to the large amount of new equipment necessary.

IF A NEXT WAR COMES

Rep. Maury Maverick is quite sure that the Administration is making a mistake in spending so many millions for building up a strong naval force. Doubtless many persons will agree with the Texas man when he declares that the billion-and-a-half naval program is just an invitation to war; or, as he puts it, "the biggest chip the United States has ever placed on its shoulder."

But reading further, it does not appear that Mr. Maverick is dead set against defense. He merely is questioning the wisdom of the Administration idea of what is proper in defense. His own notion is that we ought to spend those millions in setting up a lot of big guns all along our coast effectively to insure peace at home. The Maverick idea is that a floating fortress can be an agency of offense as well as defense, while an immovable fortress on land does not lend itself to imperialistic ambitions.

And while we are presenting some views as to defensive war measures, here is a bit we would like to quote from the current issue of the American Mercury, which sets forth war plans declared by Gordon Carroll to be already formulated by the army-navy departments; you doubtless will be interested:

"Every person from the age of sixteen upward will be at the command of government. The price of every article and commodity will be fixed by the government. Factories will produce only what the government orders. Labor will be deprived of the right to strike. Food, and all other necessities of life, will be rationed. Incomes will be taxed up to 93 per cent, and profits up to 100 per cent. All wages will be fixed by Presidential proclamation. All business will be licensed. Orthodox laws of economics will be outlawed, civic rights violated, the press, radio and movies censored, and personal liberty destroyed."

"In brief," concludes the Mercury writer, "every person and every enterprise in the United States will automatically become part of a giant war machine, the control of which will rest in the hands of the President alone. Congress will abjectly surrender its powers. A super-government will take over."

RECREATION IN DECADE

Leisure time throughout the country is so highly regarded that recreation has doubled in the last ten years. The National Recreation Association in a review covering more than 2,200 communities has uncovered figures to prove that enforced idleness due to economic conditions has not been responsible for it all, as employed men and women in charge of recreation facilities increased in number during the decade from 17,177 to 43,976, with particular emphasis on swimming and picknicking.

Bathing beaches, public golf courses, ice skating areas, children's playgrounds, wading pools, lawn tennis and basketball courts and horseshoe pitching to say nothing of plain hiking, prove there is something more to life than the humdrum. There is an eagerness for recreation that does not mean sitting on park benches or listening to orators with something they must have to get off their minds. The very fact that Americans are recreating themselves in the literal sense proves that they still have plenty of

Starts On Vacation In Oldsmobile 31 Years Old

A man who in 1907 bought a three-year-old second-hand roadster for $165 today is driving the venerable car on a vacation tour of the United States during which he hopes to cover more than 7,000 miles.

The man is George C. Green, of Lambertville, N. J., and the car is a 1904 single cylinder curved dash Oldsmobile. Green is accompanied by his wife, Jennie, whose only objection to their antique mode of travel is that passing cars throw pebbles at her and the wind and sun have burned her skin.

The car is one of three Oldsmobiles of that vintage which recently passed the rigid New Jersey State Inspection at Flemington, N. J. The owner, now 52 years old, purchased the car when he was 21. He is the proprietor of a small machine shop at Lambertville.

Until the start of his vacation tour, he had never given the Oldsmobile a major overhaul. He does not know how far the car had been driven when he purchased it but in the 31 years of his ownership he has driven between 1,000 and 2,000 miles annually.

The car has a top speed of 30 miles per hour and averages about 28 miles to the gallon. The tank holds slightly less than five gallons. The New Jersey license costs $4. The wheels are fitted with motorcycle tires.

The first leg of their trip which started June 13 took the Greens to Niagara Falls. There they crossed to Canada and re-entered the United States at Detroit. A side excursion included a trip to Lansing, 85 miles from Detroit, where they met the dean of the automobile industry—Charles H. Blades, 78, who in 1897 hammered out the first Oldsmobile axle by hand and who assisted in building the car which the Greens are driving. Blades is still employed in the Oldsmobile plant. At Lansing a bicycle cyclometer which Green had installed on the left front wheel, registered 746 miles.

"The actions of people to this old car are mighty interesting," Green said. "Every Oldsmobile that passes us—and they pass us coming and going—gives us a salute with the horn. And we honk our bulb horn right back at them. The first question people always ask is how fast the car will go. Little boys holler 'get a horse' just like they did 30 years ago."

The further itinerary of the tour has not yet been definitely established, but if present plans mature, the Greens hope to push on across the continent to the Pacific Coast.

"And they list her HOUSEWIFE"

On census report, or tax return, she may be listed only "housewife," while her husband bears the more definite title of "lawyer," or "doctor," or "storekeeper."

But housewife hardly does this wife and mother justice. She is the modern Jill-of-all-trades. Her job includes being dietician, interior decorator, costume designer, gardener, chauffeur — not to mention educator and health authority.

How does she get away with it? She is informed! Just as her husband depends upon business news in this paper, she finds in the advertising pages the latest facts and price quotations on all the materials needed for her various jobs.

Food for the family? Butcher and grocer answer on these pages. . . . Curtains, spring dresses for mother and daughter, slip covers? Department store and specialty shop are ready. She has preferences about fuels and milk, dental creams and even motor oil — all determined by her persistent, intelligent reading of advertisements.

That's why, when she is termed officially "housewife," she can run six jobs instead of one, and have time left over for amusement and relaxation. (The advertisements help her here too.)

ON SCREENS IN BRISTOL

BRISTOL

Romance and laughter run riot in Monogram's new action thriller, "The Marines Are Here," which opens today at the Bristol Theatre with Gordon Oliver, Ray Walker and June Travis in the leading roles.

The story concerns Hogan and Jones, and tells how, despite their ambitions, they cannot keep out of trouble long enough to win sergeants' stripes. Jones falls in love with Terry, and is adored by her little nephew Tommy, but they are both disillusioned when they find him in the brig for the empty-umpte time.

But Jones redeems himself and wins the girl and his promotion when he volunteers for a dangerous spy mission in the camp of the bandit Ali-ping. A thrilling climax, when Dick's identity is discovered by the natives, lends drama and suspense to a denouement replete with laughs.

There are very few screen shows that can boast of the assortment of swing tunes heard in the new Ford MacMurray comedy, "Cocoanut Grove," the new film that comes Sunday to the Bristol Theatre. Put across by MacMurray, radio songstress Harriet Hilliard, the Yacht Club Boys, Rufe Davis and Harry Owens and his band, they number six in all, and come from the pens of some of Hollywood's better known composers.

Heading the hit parade are "Says My Heart" by Lane and Loesser, and "You Leave Me Breathless" by Fried and Hollander. Harry Owens, who penned last year's hit number one, "Sweet Lullaby," besides appearing in a featured part in the new film, has written two smash new musical hits, "Cocoanut Grove" and "Dreamy Hawaiian Moon." Rufe Davis has two comic numbers in the piece, "Two Bits a Pair" and "Ten Easy Lessons" composed by gag man Jack Rock.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD—About to retire voluntarily from the screen, Kay Francis would take a few souvenirs to remind her of her labors as an actress. She is arranging with Paramount and Warner Brothers to purchase prints of three of her films.

"Not the best pictures I have made, perhaps," says the actress, "but the ones that have meant the most to me personally."

I don't know whether you will agree with her, but the trio Kay selects are: "Gentlemen of the Press" (her film debut), "One Way Passage" and "My Bill".

The last, oddly enough, is a B picture, made for less than half of what the Francis features usually cost Warners.

A theater would set all-time box office records if it could have the show put on by 150 guests at Bing Crosby's hacienda the other night. It was the first party of the newly organized "Westwood Marching and Chowder club". The spirit of the gay nineties was revived.

How would you like to see a Floradora sextet with these people in it?—Bette Davis, Shirley Ross, Mrs. Skeets Gallagher, Mrs. Edmund Lowe, Mrs. David Butler, Edwina Marshall, Wesley Ruggles, Edmund Lowe, Skeets Gallagher, Herb Poole, Lin Howard and Eddie Sutherland.

Most of the celebs at the party entertained in some way.

In "Algiers," Hedy Lamarr scores a point for the foreign importations. She is no great actress as yet, but is so exotically beautiful that her future seems assured.

The Wanger film is stronger on moods than action, but looks like a winner.

More excitement at Paramount when Jack Benny, after a late booth and nobody noticed him when time came to close the shop.

A telephone SOS from the star brought help from the studio nearby, but they couldn't do anything. Neither could a police radio car.

To release Benny, it was finally necessary to call Bill Ring at home and get him to come down and unlock the door.

Looks as if Twentieth Century-Fox is really going to do something for Elaine Barrie in "Hold That Co-Ed". She was allowed to spend three days selecting wardrobe and the makeup department devoted six hours to experiments in coiffures, cosmetics, etc.

Husband John Barrymore, a character reminiscent of the late Huey Long—a governor who adopts a football team.

Stuart Holmes, famous villain of silent pictures, gets the second lead supporting Boris Karloff in Warner's "Devil's Island". It's a long deserved break and his friends will be glad to hear the news.

Racing patrons at the up-to-the-minute Hollywood Park don't realize how lucky they are. The Edgar Kennedys paid $45 for two stall seats at the running of the Derby at Epsom Downs.

Gilbert Roland is to co-star with Lupe Velez in her next Mexican picture.

The dance team, George and Johanna, are a smash hit at the Cocoanut Grove. Nothing so graceful seen hereabouts since the last visits of the De Marcos and of Velez and Yolanda.

Nan Blackstone's return to the Club 17 is another shot of adrenalin to local night life. The Four Squires, at this 125 lb. class—Jimmy Lefferts, Ontario, won the decision over Fred Budassi, St. Ann's, in 3 rounds.

112 lb. class—Eddie Campbell, Roebing, lost to Carl Spinelli, St. Ann's, in 2 rounds.
147 lb. class—Steve Litus, St. Ann's, was stopped by Nick Piccozzi, Crusaders, in the second round.
126 lb. class—Jack Starling, Roebing, won over Donato Sciarra, St. Ann's, in 4 rounds.
130 lb. class—Rosel Johnson, Sigma Theta, decisioned William Leighton, Rescue Squad, in 3 rounds.

Despite the fact that he did not win his fight, Freddie Budassi, St. Ann's, made quite an impression on the amateur boxing fans of this section. Budassi fought Jimmy Lefferts, Ontario C. C. and was beaten in three rounds. The bouts were in St. Ann's Arena last night.

But that is not the story. Lefferts had a long list of fights after his name. It was Budassi's first encounter and what a fight the St. Ann's fighter put up. In fact, after that loss he had battered in Lefferts' jaw in the final session, many thought that he had won and boomed the official decision.

Lefferts was really hurt in the final round and did not do any mocking on the novice fighter like he did in the second round. Lefferts was clearly shaken off his feet and only his ring experience gave him the nod.

The winning streak of Hokey Leighton was stopped when he was beaten by the cool and collected Rosel Johnson, Sigma Theta. The score between these boys is now even, Leighton winning a previous bout.

Leighton did a lot of infighting against the colored boy who landed the more solid blows. Hokey took the lead but it was Johnson's hard knocks on the counter-punching which gave him the triumph.

The long reach of Jack Starling, Roebing, was too much of a handicap for Tally Sciarra, St. Ann's, and despite the hard efforts of the Purple and Gold fighter, Starling was the winner. Starling had a tattoo on Tally's face with his left throughout the fight. Sciarra landed many left hooks to the stomach and below the heart and several had Starling bending but Tally couldn't get beyond those outstretched arms enough to get the triumph.

Clowning was all that Eddie Campbell, Roebing, did in his bout with Carl Spinelli, St. Ann's, with the result that the Purple and Gold fighter carried the fight, winning in three rounds. The more Campbell was hit, the harder he would laugh. Towards the close of the fight, he started to do some serious fighting but it was too late.

Joe Myers, Bucks County Rescue Squad, made good in his comeback fight by whipping Elwood Savoy, Sigma Theta. Myers took the entire three rounds and made the colored boy absorb quite a bit of punishment. In the second round, Myers landed six right crosses and all landed on Savoy's jaw. Myers did not receive a blow in return.

John Lawless, Crusaders, appeared a little too strong for the game Reno Pascucci, Roebing, as he won in three rounds. Several hard blows below the heart weakened Pascucci.

Referee Walter Harpt stopped the fight between Lou Borda, Crusaders, and Ernest Simko, St. Ann's, after the latter was floored four times in the first round. Steve Litus, St. Ann's, was stopped by Nick Piccozzi, Crusaders, in the second. Litus was not out but mis-counted the seconds he was down.

Officials were: Referee, Walter Harpt; judges, Norman O'Donnell and David Howard; timer, Joseph Palermo; physician, I. Joseph Levy; clerk, James McGinley; deputy, Joseph Brown; announcer, Mike Deltisi.

JONES SO WILD THAT HE LOSES GAME TO SUPERIOR

Milt Jones, veteran twirler of the Bristol Twilight League, wild-pitched himself into defeat last evening on the Edgely diamond as the Odd Fellows dropped a close decision to the Superior Zinc Corporation nine, 2-1.

Jones' wild heave came in the first frame and was responsible for both of the Superior tallies. But Wright had walked to open the inning and Berry followed with a single. Joe advanced both runners with a sacrifice. Then with McCue at the plate, Jones uncorked a wild pitch, scoring Wright and when home plate was left unguarded, Berry also sneaked home with what proved to be the winning marker.

From then on, Superior was hopeless against the ageing twilight pitcher. From the second until two were out in the fifth not a hit resounded from the Superior bats. Then Bragg hit safely and in the sixth, Roe made a single.

The Odds presented a bad case of hitting in the clutches. They had two on in the first, third, fourth, and sixth innings and one in the second and fifth and only in the sixth did they register off the winning moundsman, Johnny Bragg.

The playing of Willie Wilnot, shortstopper for the Odd Fellows, was the feature of the game.

LEGION JR. IX TO PLAY LANGHORNE HERE TODAY

The Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion Juniors, will endeavor to avenge the 1 to 0 defeat handed them by the Langhorne Juniors the last time the teams met. The game will be played today at three o'clock on Landreth's field.

Manager Hems will start Petrick on the mound, with Felkner catching. Although both teams are out of the running for Bucks county championship, both teams losing the tough ones by one run, a very good game is expected. Bristol defeated Doylestown Wednesday night by the score of 7 to 5.

Landreth Seeds To Meet Riverside On Sunday

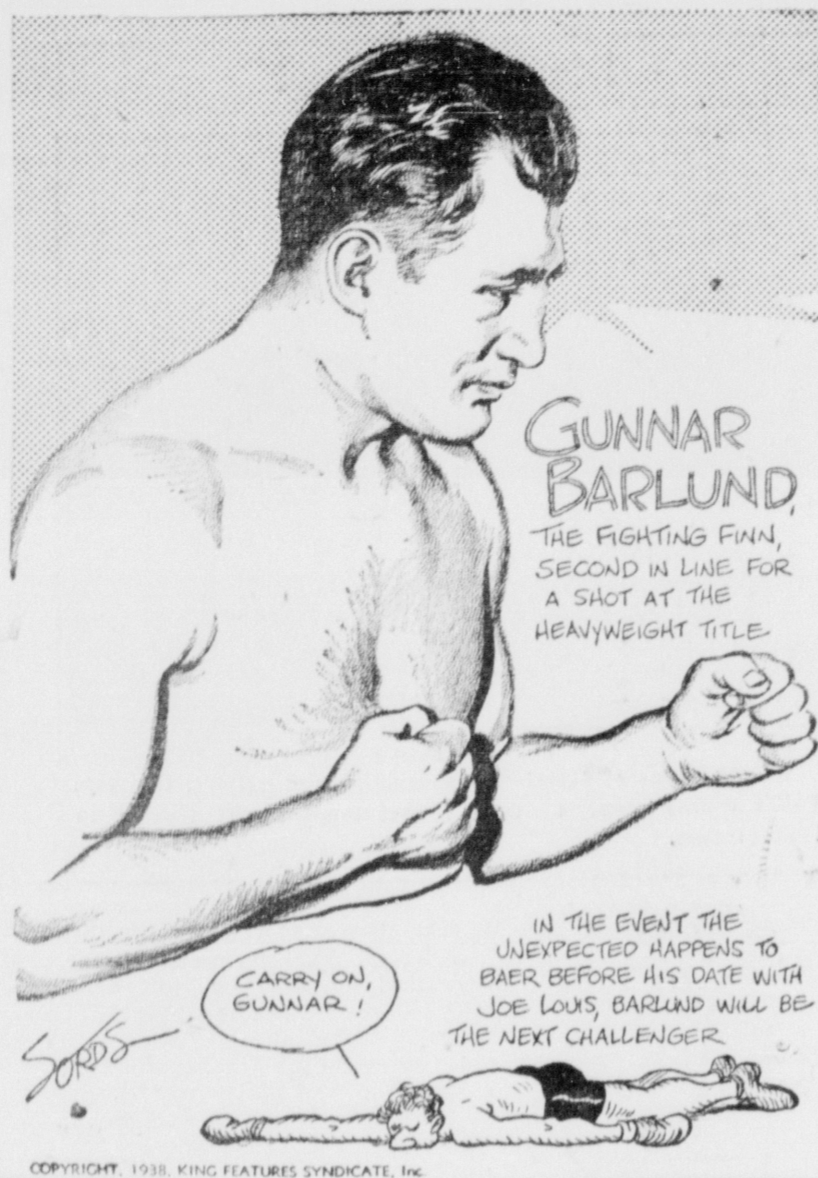

On the Landreth field tomorrow, Landreth Seeds will play Riverside of the Burlington County League. The hour is three p. m.

Riverside is a strong club. On July 4th it defeated Burlington by the score of 10 to 1.

A good game should result from this meeting, is the prediction.

DO YOU KNOW--

How to efficiently plan the family budget?
How may baths be used as a health measure?
What first aid equipment should be kept on hand?
What should I teach my children about sex?
What is a rational sex outlook?
How much should I know about food values?
What can I do to relieve nagging headaches?
Is constipation as serious a menace to health as claimed?
Can colds be prevented?
What effect does worry have on bodily functions?

Most people are "healthy" in the sense that they are not chronic invalids. Yet they are never entirely well. They know nothing of the joy of radiant, pulsating health—the possibilities of mind and body working in perfect union.

All because they "suffer" from annoying ailments—not in themselves very serious—but nature's warning that something is wrong.

Headaches and constipation rank foremost among the common ailments which rob us of vitality and a zest for life. In time, we almost come to "accept" these nagging ills as a part of our life, little realizing the terrific toll they exact—and the serious consequences to which they may lead.

This helpful volume of the MODERN HEALTH LIBRARY is a practical challenge to these common enemies, and a comprehensive defense against their damaging progress.

Are you wrecking your personality as the result of over-work, abuse, or high pressure living? Or, are you overly conservative, unduly sparing yourself, failing to fire up your boilers to a point of real efficiency? In short, are you in the RUTS?

Your health determines your capacity to enjoy life—to get the most out of life. What you accomplish is measured by your mental, physical, and emotional well-being. If your "machine" is functioning efficiently you will have a clearer head—show greater enthusiasm for your work, your family, and your friends. You will naturally be good-natured and efficient. You will rid yourself of fear, anxiety, uncertainty and indecision—substituting faith, courage and decision.

THE MODERN HEALTH LIBRARY brings to you a wealth of up-to-date knowledge and experience to aid you and your family in the attainment of a healthy, happy, and successful life. It answers every-day problems of mental and physical hygiene—those little nagging disorders that prevent your feeling your best—doing your best—living your best. And, in an interesting, easy-to-understand style the Authors discuss the broader problems of mental and physical well-being. They talk about the most important subject in the world—YOU!
